PEARL HARBOR, July 21.—Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced today that United States marines and army assault troops landed on Guam Thursday, thus bringing to a climax almost three weeks of sustained pre-invasion attacks against the former American-held island in the Marianas.

In the first thrust aimed directly at American territory seized by the Japs after their strike at Pearl Harbor, combined United States forces supported by heavy bombardment from carrier planes and surface units of the Fifth Fleet, landed on Guam Island July 20, Nimitz announced.

Early successes of the American assault were indicated in the words of the Nimitz communiqué which said that the landings were continuing against "moderate ground opposition."

The amphibious operation against Guam which was seized by the Japs from a small American garrison two weeks after fateful December 7, 1941, was continuing.

PA NEWC Observes

With political news at a high pitch on the air, interested citizens of both the Republican and Democratic parties, have literally glued their ears to their radio dials lately and Thursday night's demonstration was no exception. Pa News is told that some forget to eat, they were so interested in the happenings at the convention as related to the radio audience.

Lovers of animals have been quite obedient in keeping their pets tied and on a chain when taking some for a stroll in the evening. However, there are a few who disregard the laws and destruction of Victory gardens is usually the result.

If the threats of rain evidenced at intervals today could only be erased, a happy land this would be! The prayers of farmers, victory garden growers and many thousands of others surely voice their thanks for the showers that have already fallen upon the parched earth.

With eating places being so badly crowded, owners of downtown tea rooms and diningrooms would appreciate it beyond measure, if quickly would eat their dinner, and quickly vacate the booths to enable others to be served and also return to their work on time during the noon hour.

Small puddles remaining in crevices along streets left from the recent rains, have provided entertainment for little tots to wade in, Pa News notices.

This week, a busman lady was entering a city bus in the downtown area. Finding the bus rather crowded she stepped back to the sidewalk and remarked, "I like to be squeezed but not in a bus."

War Loan Sales Are Increasing

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—(INS)—Additional sales of $4,556,487 in all issues in the Fifth War Loan drive through Wednesday were announced today by G. Ruhlman Reimann, Jr., state war finance committee chairman.

Latest totals are: individuals, $362,449,218, or 82 per cent of quota; series E bonds, $160,188,993, or 71.5 per cent; corporations, $813,900,000, or 127.2 per cent.

Pennsylvanians Are Still Riddle In VP Selection

Will Not Caucus Until Vote
Is Called On Convention
Floor Today

By WATSON FENIMORE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, July 21.—(INS)—The riddle of what the Pennsylvania delegation to the Democratic National Convention will do in the bitter vice-presidential nomination fight will be solved finally today when the delegation caucuses on or near the Convention floor.

Pennsylvania State Chairman David L. Lawrence announced that the Keystone state representatives will settle the question immediately after nominations are made in Chicago Stadium.

The vote today. The nominations are to be made today, probably at a time after noon. And the poll of Pennsylvania votes will be in accordance with a motion passed by the delegation Tuesday to ballot on the state's vice-presidential stand only when all candidates have been named.

With the Pennsylvania split over Vice President Henry A. Wallace and Sen. Harry S. Truman, of Missouri, for second place on the National ticket, both commonwealth factions found something to cheer about in yesterday's Chicago developments.

Lawrence, a Truman booster, asserted that the newest Roosevelt vice-presidential letter—this one about Truman—was bound to have tremendous weight in Pennsylvania convention ranks. He still declined, however, to make an estimate on Truman's strength.

Bertram J. Murphy, delegate from Reading, Pa., who opposed the Tuesday vote which showed the state contingent 41-21 for Wallace, asserted that Truman now can count on 40 of the commonwealth's 72 convention ballots.

Murphy spearheaded the opposition against Wallace Tuesday and has insisted that Wallace would weaken the ticket in Pennsylvania adding that the vice president would cost the party votes in Berks county particularly.

Washington Roundup

In Washington today the Navy discloses that U. S. Marines and assault troops have invaded Guam. Waves of supporting forces are still pouring into the beachheads in the long-awaited campaign to recapture the former American island from the Japs. In an early morning communiqué the navy says to the beachheads were established July 20 and the landings are continuing against moderate ground opposition.

Elsewhere in the capital, Thomas Burke, former aviation expert, is challenging the private agreement of Pan-American Airways with the government of Portugal. Burke, chief of the division of international communications until his recent resignation, says the United States government is now free to break open this agreement in the interest of other American airlines.

The Office of Defense Transportation reveals that the WPB will reach a decision today on the release of additional large size truck tires. The disclosure follows prediction by the American Trucking Associations, Inc., of a "break-down" in America's domestic transportation system.

OPA announces that dry commercial field beans will be removed from price control starting July 22 and also discloses that local rationing boards for persons who lose ration books to advertise for their recovery before replacements are issued.

Heroine

Miss Fay Brocklehurst, 15-year-old Volant girl, has rescued five youngsters in the past three years from the Volant mill pond. As a tribute to her courage the citizens of Volant has given her a $100 war bond and a purse. She is a student in the New Wilmington high school.

Germans Frantic In Lwow Defense

Nazi Forces Bewildered By Onrushing Russians; Erect Barricades In Streets

LONDON, July 21.—(INS)—German defenders of the Polish city of Lwow were reported today by Reuters in a dispatch from Moscow to be erecting barricades in the northern outskirts of the city to meet the threatened breakthrough of the Red Army.

Fierce fighting was said to be under way on the approaches to Lwow with Soviet tank and artillery spearheads stabbing into the city's outer defense ring and the roar of guns practically continuous.

A new threat of encirclement faces numerous German divisions in the great marshlands south of the Brest-Litovsk highway according to Reuters. As Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky continues his sweeping advance against Brest-Litovsk from the southeast the Germans were reported beginning to pull out of the ancient fortress city, but it may be too late.

Manpower Dearth Grows More Acute

Employment Managers
Urges Unemployed To Register Immediately

In a letter to the Greater New Castle association today G. O. Anderson, manager of the U. S. Employment Service emphasizes the need for workers in this county and urges any man or woman who is unemployed to register now.

The need for 3600 additional workers in this county within the next four months is a critical one and with this need is that of housing facilities for workers who will be brought in. In order to ascertain what remedies can be applied locally, a survey will be made in the county. A questionnaire will be published in The News July 25th and 26th. It is urged that every citizen fill it out and return it to the GNC not later than the night of July 26th.

Anderson Letter

Mr. Anderson's letter to Mr. Roger Jewett, of the GNC follows. Dear Mr. Jewett:

I should like to commend the Greater New Castle association for its fine work in placing squarely before the people of Lawrence county, through the medium of the "New Castle News", the critical manpower and housing problems which will confront the community within the next few months.

A number of job openings are now available in local war-production plants. Many more workers, both men and women, will be needed later. The increased demand will probably materialize later in August or early in September.

It is important that workers, both men and women, who are willing to accept wartime jobs in local plants, should register immediately at the United States Employment Service, so that we may have an indication of how many local job openings can be filled by local people, and how many workers it will be necessary to recruit from points outside the county and that we may be able to (Continued on Page Two)

Russian Drive Forging Ahead; Gains 31 Miles

Reds Reach Nazi Bug River
Defense Line South Of Brest-Litovsk

By NATALIA RENE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, July 21.—Russian forces smashed ahead today on a 93-mile front west and north-west of the Polish rail junction city of Kovel, some 95 miles north and slightly east of Lwow, in the eighth full-scale drive they have launched in 28 days.

Announcement of the new offensive, which has already punched out gains of as much as 31 miles and carried to the Nazis' Bug river defense line south of Brest-Litovsk was made by Marshal Joseph Stalin in one of two orders of the day issued last night.

In another order of the day, Stalin disclosed that Soviet troops had occupied the rail junctions of Rawa ("Rawa Russkaya"), 35 miles northwest of Lwow, and Vladimir-Volynsky, 33 miles southwest of Kovel. Seizure of these two strategic towns was the fruit of outflanking maneuvers directed against Kovel, now in Russian hands, and Lwow.

More than 400 towns and villages were swept up in the three-day drive west and northwest of Kovel by Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky's first White Russian army while over 300 were taken by Gen. Ivan S. Konev's first Ukrainian army in a three-pronged push against Lwow. Another 165 localities were liberated by the Russians on other sectors of the active 800-mile battlefield.

More Fireworks Promised Today

Vice Presidential Balloting Will Probably Create Furore
At Convention

By WILLIAM THEIS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, July 21.—(INS)—This Democratic convention which the experts had figured out in advance as a dull and unexciting affair is knocking the hats off Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt with a prospect of more fireworks when they reach the vice-presidential balloting today.

There was suspicion even the party leaders didn't know from one minute to the next when scheduled business would take place, or which revolting group might raise a fuss.

There was a program of speeches with a dramatic touch—from President Roosevelt's radio acceptance delivered from "a Pacific coast naval base" to War Correspondent Quentin Reynolds' emotion-pitched reply to Republican Clare Booth Luce's "G. I. Jim" speech of the GOP convention. The "glamor" was supplied by ex-movie actress Helen Gahagan Douglas, Democratic National Committeewoman from California.

And there were demonstrations that shook the rafters in the convention stadium and threatened the lives of women and frail men.

The biggest uproar of applause and mass marching followed Mr. Roosevelt's address. Jackson of Indiana literally gavelled the Thursday night session into recess to bring it to a close when the delegates, led by supporters of Vice President Henry A. Wallace itching to begin balloting, refused to end their demonstration.

Looks Like Showdown Has Come In Germany

By J. C. OESTREICHER
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

From all the fire and fury surrounding Nazi claims of a monarchical attempt upon the life of Adolf Hitler, one clear and unequivocal fact emerged today.

The man who plunged Europe into the abyss and the world into war has made of the German army an instrument of his own personal salvation.

Long-awaited American invasion of the island of Guam in the Pacific, rapid Russian advances toward the Polish garrison city of Lwow and new Allied successes in Normandy assumed a subordinate role in world interest as the Nazi leaders, tuned to fever pitch, blanketed the universe with blood-curdling tales of the fuhrer's "miraculous escape" from his would-be assassins.

ROME, July 21.—Allied armies in Italy continued to press the Germans back all along the peninsula front today, with the British occupying Monte San Michele only 15 miles south of Florence.

Troops of the Fifth Army advanced to the outskirts of Castel Fiorentino, 17 miles southwest of Florence.

South of Pisa near the west coast the Germans offered stiff resistance to American troops of the Fifth Army.

Eastward on the Adriatic sector Polish troops of the Eighth Army, driving northwest from the Esino river, gained several miles across difficult country. They moved forward in pursuit of German units withdrawing northwest of Ancona.

Allied troops fighting with the Allies pushed farther inland beyond Jesi.

Weather Improves

An improvement in the weather enabled the Allied forces to step up their pressure against the Nazis in the march toward the German Gothic defense line running from Pisa on the west coast to Rimini on the Adriatic.

Truman Gaining Strength
But State Mate Seems Possible

BARKLEY SEEN
AS COMPROMISE

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, July 21.—President Roosevelt was his party's official fourth term nominee today as a strife-ridden Democratic convention sought to choose his running-mate from a field of 16 possibilities, headed by Vice President Henry A. Wallace and Senator Harry S. Truman of Missouri.

An International News Service poll of delegates showed Wallace with 454 pledged votes to 293 for Truman. Overnight, Wallace lost 85 votes to Truman and new "favorite son" candidates, with the Missouri man gaining 35 delegates.

Possible Compromise

Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, who placed Mr. Roosevelt's name in nomination, was in third place with 111 votes. Barkley was in a choice spot as a "compromise" nominee.

The remaining 317 votes were scattered among "favorite sons"—13 in all—most of whom hope that the deadlock will be prolonged until they can win the nomination.

Choice of a vice presidential nominee was the final business before the convention, convening at noon. President Roosevelt promptly accepted his fourth term renomination. His speech, broadcast from a railroad train in a "Pacific coast naval station," highlighted last night's session.

Mr. Roosevelt won renomination easily. The vote was 1086 for the president, 89 for Senator Harry Flood Byrd of Virginia—coming largely from southern states—and one for former Democratic National Chairman James A. Farley of New York.

Win the War

The president pledged his administration, first to winning the war, then to using the armed forces of sovereign nations to preserve future peace.

Secrecy Of Whereabouts Resumed After Acceptance

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT AT A PACIFIC COAST NAVAL BASE July 21—Wartime secrecy was clamped down again today on President Roosevelt's movements after his dramatic acceptance of renomination for a fourth term by the Democratic national convention in Chicago.

Addressing the convention by radio from his private train at this West Coast naval installation, President Roosevelt laid down the pattern of his campaign—to win the war speedily, to help build an international organization for peace and to guarantee jobs for returning heroes and a decent standard of living for all Americans.

The President spoke with even tone as he slowly read his speech, highlighted by this statement:

People Decide

"The people of the United States will decide this fall whether they wish to turn over this 1944 job—this world-wide job—to inexperienced and immature hands, to those who opposed lend-lease and international cooperation and to those who opposed the war against Hitler, or whether they wish to leave it to those who saw the danger from abroad, who met it head-on, and (Continued on Page Two)

LONDON, July 21.—The axe of Nazi vengeance fell without mercy throughout Germany today in the wake of an alleged attempt against the life of Adolf Hitler, with enemy propaganda agencies announcing immediate execution of all suspected of complicity in the plot.

DNB broadcast with a fanfare that Col. Gen. Ludwig Beck, identified as one of the guiding figures in the strange and still unsatisfactorily explained affair "is no longer alive."

Blame Generals

Announcement followed a claim by Nazi propagandists that two German army generals, assisted by adjutants, were chiefly responsible for plotting the assassination.

Reports flooded into London meanwhile that something in the nature of an open military revolt against Hitler's leadership was in progress, with the inevitable bloody "purge" of dissident elements following in its wake.

One report from Stockholm even said that crack units of the Nazi Brownshirt army were marching on Berlin to restore and maintain order.

In this connection, the German transoceanic agency said that "cer- (Continued on Page Two)

HARRISBURG, July 21.—The State Highways department has announced the award of a $23,905 contract to the Kelley and Meyer company, Youngstown, Ohio, for resurfacing 32 of a mile of rural route 37013 and U. S. Route 122 on East Washington street and Long avenue, New Castle.

City Hall officials today said that they expect the Ohio firm to commence preliminary work toward actual resurfacing within the immediate future. The section of East Washington street to be resurfaced is located between Croton avenue and Butler avenue and the portion of Long avenue to be improved lies between Pennsylvania avenue and Morris street.

The resurfacing will be the same as performed by another firm in East Washington street between Butler avenue and the city line and also in North Mill street and Highland avenue.

Industrial Ruhr Valley Blasted

British Air Force Sends Wave After Wave Over Rich German Industrial Cities

NAZIS RETALIATE WITH ROBOT BOMBS

LONDON, July 21.—(INS)—British Lancasters and Halifax heavy bombers, continuing an offensive against Germany's synthetic oil supply, last night attacked targets at Homburg, Bittorf and Welsheim in the industrial Ruhr valley, the air ministry announced today.

The approach of strong Allied bomber formations over western Germany in daylight was reported by the German air raid warning system, according to the FCC.

Other Allied heavyweights loosed an accurate and concentrated bombardment against the railway yards at Courtrai, Belgium, while unidentified targets in France were attacked. Nine aircraft were lost in the Courtrai assault.

The air ministry said that its night raiders had gone out in "very great strength" to engage in the assaults on Belgium, France and Germany.

(The Nazis claimed that their own raiding planes were over Britain during the night.)

Violent Battles

Unofficial estimates were that about 1000 British heavy bombers took part in the night assaults which the Nazi DNB agency said precipitated "violent" air battles.

The night attacks included a Mosquito assault on the Port of Hamburg. A total of 31 British craft was reported missing. During the day yesterday, the air ministry said Lancasters and Halifaxes attacked flying bomb targets, including a "site believed connected with the enemy's threatened use of long-range rockets in northern France."

Hundreds of Allied bombers and fighters were reported to have crossed the east coast during the night and terrific explosions were heard in the Calais area opposite Dover.

More flying bombs again fell today on the southern counties of England, including the London area, to increase the steadily rising toll of damage and casualties.

'Dear Alben' Seeks Vice Presidency

CHICAGO, July 21.—(INS)—Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky is in the Democratic vice presidential race to stay. He said so today in one word—"Sure."

Barkley supporters predicted his nomination on "the third or fourth ballot." The senator himself was asked:

"Are you in this fight to the finish?"

"Sure," he answered with a grin.

PLEDGED VOTES SHOW WALLACE LEADS TRUMAN

peace and finally to insure employment and decent standards of living to all Americans in the postwar era, but especially to returning veterans.

The 1944 Democratic platform paraphrased the president's acceptance speech but included a plank, promising racial equality, that aroused terrific resentment in southern delegations. The southern delegations—Tennessee, Mississippi and South Carolina—were so enraged, they voted against the platform.

The southern revolt was enriched by action of the convention in splitting the vote of Texas between the "regular" and the "new deal" delegations. Both were seated.

The vice presidential race, however, overshadowed both the southern revolt and discussion over the platform.

Wallace managers hope to secure his renomination at this afternoon's session. They predict he will be renominated on either the first or second ballots.

Truman managers declared Wallace would lose his top strength on the first ballot and lose ground thereafter until the senator is nominated.

There were signs, however, that the Truman "boom" is deteriorating, just as did the abortive one launched in behalf of war mobilization Director James F. Byrnes of South Carolina. One sign was the refusal of Byrnes himself to place Truman's name in nomination, as did Senator Carl Hatch, of New Mexico, one of Byrnes's managers.

Another significant sign was the action of Mayor Edward J. Kelly, of Chicago—a convention boss—in letting the Illinois delegation pledge its 58 votes to "a favorite son," Senator Scott Lucas. The Truman managers had expected to garner the whole 58 votes.

A third indication of Truman weakness was the failure of Edward T. Flynn, of New York, to deliver the Empire state delegation to Truman. Wallace was credited with 45 of New York's 86 votes. This Wallace strength was produced by Philip Murray, CIO boss, and Sidney Hillman, head of the American Labor party.

State leaders, delegates and "favorite sons," meanwhile, expressed indignation over the manner in which Mr. Roosevelt's managers sought to carry out presidential wishes on a running-mate. There was widespread criticism of material tactics that produced two Roosevelt letters, naming Roosevelt favorites, after a list named five men acceptable to the president.

Produce Letter

When the Byrnes boom collapsed the Roosevelt managers talked mysteriously about another letter endorsing Truman. They used this talk to launch the Truman boom. The letter was actually produced last night.

The letter, as issued, was dated July 19 but about everybody in the convention said it was written on either July 11 or July 12 and the letter dated expected by Hannegan.

Now, the question raging throughout the convention is:

Why did Roosevelt write an undated letter favoring Truman as his running mate and before issuing a list of five favorites, in which Truman was not named?

No one here seems to know the answer but everybody blames Hannegan.

of the Eighth Army closed in around Citta di Castello which the Germans have stoutly defended for some time.

West of Arezzo, along Highway 69, further progress was made north of Montecatini. North of Radda infantry forces took Monte Quercialba in addition to Monte San Michele.

Mediterranean Air Force squadrons flew 1,400 sorties against the Germans in daylight yesterday to attack aircraft installations in southern Germany and bridges in the Po valley. Shipping along the Dalmatian coast also was attacked.

In the course of the missions 17 German planes were destroyed. Headquarters reported 13 big Allied bombers missing and two other aircraft lost.

German attempts to counter-attack around Troarn, increasingly menaced by a British push around Caen, were beaten down by the air during the night strong forces of heavy Allied bombers carried out an accurate and concentrated attack against the Nazi-held railway yards at Courtrai, Belgium. Nine bombers were lost.

LOOK FOR SHOWDOWN SOON IN GERMANY

then obliterated the Communist party, was exactly what the doctor ordered for the Nazi party.

Hitler Again Boss

From now on, Hitler will be running the whole show again, and the simple extremity of his officially announced retributions for the alleged attempt demonstrates that a movement of profound importance had been set in motion against his leadership.

It probably was a plotted revolution by the old-line officers of the German general staff. Field Marshal Karl Gerd Rudolph Von Rundstedt may have been a leading figure and he probably is dead. Many other officers of his caste may have been involved. For weeks, Madrid, Lisbon, Stockholm and Berne have been flooded with reports of a Prussian attempt to make peace while the German army still is intact and the war not yet decided.

What would be more logical than for Hitler to allege an attempt upon his life and what better spot could have been chosen for the fanfare than his own hideaway at Berchtesgaden in the Bavarian Alps—a villa guarded by 20,000 picked troops and far from the public eye.

No Old Lifers

Most significant was the fact that in the purported conference at Berchtesgaden, no old-line German generals were represented.

The Nazi party is riding high, just as it rode after the Reichstag fire and after the blood purge of 1934, but this may be its last ride.

On the other side of the globe, a great new victor for Allied armies was in the making. American marines and army troops streamed ashore on the island of Guam, with only moderate ground opposition encountered as the result of a three-week air and naval bombardment of the important base which clearly foreshadowed invasion.

Only one day after Tokyo, Guam is the most important of all islands in the Marianas group and was taken by the Japanese in the first week of the Pacific war. Its recapture will give the United States Navy and air force an invaluable base for future assaults against the Japanese homeland.

British troops in Normandy gained important new ground near Caen, while the Americans to the west proceeded in cleanup of German remnants around St. Lo. The Russians, advanced steadily toward Lwow and the Allies in Italy moved to within 15 miles of Florence.

who now have seized the offensive and carried the war to its present stages of success.

The acceptance speech was delivered at the end of the Chief Executive's six-day transcontinental tour shrouded in wartime secrecy which prevented disclosure of his whereabouts or future destinations. He said in his address that he was inspecting this naval base as part of his duty "under the Constitution."

This was interpreted to mean that he traveled, not as the President of a presidential candidate but as commander-in-chief of the armed forces of the nation.

Through 16 States

Mr. Roosevelt passed through 16 states in his tour of Washington, first going to his Hyde Park home in New York, then across the country. Several stops were made, including one in Chicago where Robert Hannegan boarded the special train presumably to discuss with the President his choices for vice president. But Mr. Roosevelt made no public appearances anywhere along the 3,000-mile journey.

The nature of this journey was regarded as setting the example for his future movements during the campaign, for he said in his speech that he accepted the nomination "solely on a sense of obligation to serve if called upon to serve."

I shall not campaign in the usual sense, for the office.

He added that "in these tragic days of sorrow I do not consider it fitting. Besides, in these days of global warfare, I shall not be able to find the time. I shall, however, feel free to report to the people the facts about matters of concern to them and especially to correct any misrepresentations."

TERROR REIGNS AS HEADS FALL IN BLOOD BATTLE

tain precautionary measures" were taken in the center of Berlin last night.

"The orders given by the conspirators to military formations were stopped in time," the agency asserted.

Berger Dies

The Nazi DNB agency interrupted its regular transmissions at 10:20 a. m. EWT to put out an announcement that Hitler's collaborator Berger, injured during the reported attempt to assassinate the Fuehrer, "died in the meantime, it was learned just now."

Competent British circles remained skeptical regarding many phases of the alleged assassination attempt as first broadcast by the German radio and then elaborated upon by Hitler and his closest henchmen in hysterical speeches.

There seemed little doubt, however, that an internal crisis of the first water exists in Germany.

Whether the whole assassination attempt was "stage produced" by Hitler and Heinrich Himmler as an excuse to clean out anti-Nazi groups in the German army or whether Beck and his alleged co-conspirators actually sought to do away with the Fuehrer as a means to peace was regarded as more or less beside the point.

Nazi broadcasts laid continuing emphasis upon the necessity for all Germans to "disregard" orders that may come from any source that lack the personal seal of Hitler's approval, or the sanction of Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goerring.

The latest effusions from Berlin pilloried General Beck as the arch-conspirator and again blamed the "external enemies" of Germany for aiding or encouraging him in the plot.

Beck Well Known

General Beck is a well-known figure in military circles. He was responsible for shaping the organization and strategy of the illegal German army up to February 4, 1938, on which date he was "purged" and thrown out of uniform and honor. He was later named "honorary colonel" of a German regiment and went into action when Hitler invaded Poland in September, 1939. Von Fritsch died on the front. Whether he was killed by a Polish bullet or by the Gestapo is one of the major mysteries of the war.

Propaganda Minister Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, hitting full stride with a great new weapon of oppression now at his command, put his deputy press chief, Helmut Stendermann, on the air to broadcast blood-curdling details of the alleged attempt and new charges of Allied complicity.

Goebbels Blasts

"The attack itself and the Fuehrer's salvation were both dramatic," Stendermann said.

"Subsequent events must be described as tragic."

"Orders issued by this small and treacherous clique of generals have not been obeyed by anyone. No incidents have taken place anywhere."

"For many years, this General Beck had played a part in enemy predictions concerning a forthcoming coup by German generals. His name again and again had been mentioned in this connection."

"Beck is no longer alive."

"Interesting proofs already have been received or connection between the plotters and an enemy power. It seems that Germany's enemies staked much upon this plan, which, however, was frustrated within a few hours."

"It is almost ridiculous to think of another Germany than a national socialist one."

"There is no connection whatever between these adventurers and the German people themselves, in contrast to the revolution of 1918, which was organized by political parties to which millions of Germans belonged."

Disturbing Elements

"Now that all disturbing elements have been eliminated and will still be eliminated, the German command will be stronger than ever before."

Announcement of Beck's execution recalled the Nazi purge of the German army high command in February, 1938, when Hitler named himself commander-in-chief and made Field Marshal Gen. Wilhelm Keitel his immediate deputy.

From then onward, the systematic penetration of the German high command by Nazi party men began, and within 10 days the Reich's policy of aggression was put into operation, first by an ultimatum to Austria and a month later by that nation's forcible annexation.

Fritsch and Beck were rumored at the time to have opposed German agrandizement for reasons of caution, with the result that both were shelved, temporarily at least.

and made much of last night's 39-minute convention demonstration for Wallace which broke out after President Roosevelt finished his radio acceptance speech accepting renomination.

The Pennsylvania Wallace backers joined enthusiastically in the uproarious scene and the state's placard was carried into the impromptu floor parade which, with the vociferous cheering and "we want Wallace" chants, stopped the show.

The demonstration, said Wallace men, showed increasing strength for the Iowan and Wallace supporters from Pennsylvania declared it would sway some Pennsylvania votes. They also applauded the Illinois decision to support Sen. Scott Lucas (R) as a blow to Truman.

munique said that nearly 11,000 Germans have been slain and more than 1,300 taken prisoner. Over 8,000 Nazi officers and men were reported wiped out in the drive north-west of Lwow alone.

Trapped Divisions

Efforts of between four and five German divisions of some 40,000 to 50,000 men to break out of their trap in the woods west of the town of Brody, about 45 miles northeast of Lwow, met with failure. More than 500 Nazis were taken prisoner as the Soviet ring of steel closed tighter around the encircled forces.

One Red Army column has captured the town of Doroshev, only five miles north of Lwow, which is the key rail city of southeastern Poland, with six lines radiating from it, one of them running northward to Lublin and Warsaw 210 miles away.

Russian planes carried out a concentrated bombing of German military targets at the rail junction of Shaulia (Shavil) in Lithuania, and other Soviet planes struck at the Nazi-occupied Port of Kirkenes in northern Norway.

Some 130 miles north of Lwow where the northern wing of Rokossovsky's forces are closing in on Brest-Litovsk, some 50 inhabited localities fell to the Russians, including the important rail junction town of Kobryn, some 25 miles east of Brest-Litovsk.

On the Baltic front, Soviet troops severed the rail line from Daugavpils (Dvinsk) to Ponevezh, west of that vital Latvian stronghold.

Pittsburgh Youth Dies Of Paralysis

PITTSBURGH, July 21.—(INS)—The first death to occur from infantile paralysis since the epidemic struck Allegheny county June 7, was reported today by the health department.

Dr. I. Hope Alexander, director of the department, said the 17-year-old boy patient at Municipal hospital had been suffering from a heart condition prior to contracting the disease.

The health department said only one new case of polio had been reported in the city in the past four days. A total of 33 known cases were reported in the area yesterday.

HOLDS "LADIES DAY"

A special "flag event" was the contest featuring "Ladies Day" at the Castle Hills club house on Thursday, which attracted a large group of women. Mrs. James Hanley and Mrs. Paul Hunt were co-hostesses in charge.

Winners were Mrs. Charles May, Mrs. Robert Magill and Mrs. James Hanley.

Luncheon at 1 o'clock climaxed the afternoon and afternoon period of golf.

A similar event on Thursday, July 26, will be held at the club with Mrs. Norman Richard and Mrs. David Smith hostesses.

MARTHA SHRINE, NO. 14

PICNIC IS SUCCESS

Martha White Shrine No. 14 with Mrs. Dorothy Stoddard, high priestess, held their annual picnic outing in the grove of Cascade Park Thursday evening, which proved an outstanding success in every way.

Upwards of 80 sat down at the prettily appointed tables where a full course dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock. Mrs. Ida McClung and officers of the lodge comprised the committee in charge.

The time that ensued was devoted to a period of games and contests.

WEDDING NEWS

RECEIVED HERE

Mrs. Irene Solomon of North Liberty street has received an announcement of the marriage of Miss Charlotte Smith to Lieut. Carl Anderson, both of Brooklyn.

The ceremony took place at the home of Mrs. R. A. Hinkson, South Gate, Calif., Saturday evening, June 17, with Rev. J. Brookhouse officiating.

The couple were attended by Miss Vyva Mullen of Huntington Park, Calif., as her maid of honor, and Robert D. Eldred of Bell, Calif., serving as best man.

Before leaving for Huntington Park, Calif., in January, where she is employed in a defense plant, the bride was formerly employed here at the Steel Spring plant.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Anderson will reside at Camp Roberts, Calif., where the former is stationed.

McBRIDE POST 522

AUXILIARY MEETING

Afternoon hours were spent informally. At 4:30 tea was served. The hostess was aided by her daughter, Peggy Anne. Each of the guests was presented with a remembrance of the occasion.

Next meeting will take the form of a brunch at Cascade park on August 17.

EAGLES AUXILIARY

PICNIC AT CASCADE

Annual picnic for the Auxiliary to the Fraternal Order of the Eagle, held Thursday evening at Cascade Park, went down on the annals as one of the most outstanding social functions ever undertaken by the organization.

Soldiers of Camp Reynolds and those who have already fought in War No. 11, stationed at the Deshon Annex hospital, were special guests, who share the day's activities.

The event was in the nature of a viener roast and hamburger fry, supplemented with a wide variety of home prepared tureens and all other delicacies that make an outdoor picnic so complete.

For the games and contest period, the regular auxiliary social committee was ably assisted by soldiers in attendance, who conducted the various sports. Those winning prizes included the following: Darts, Donald McCune; clothes pin and bottle race, Henry Gorst and Mrs. Lillian Hunter; clothes pins on the line, Lewis Zoerb; boys three-legged race, Donald Simpkins and Duane Plitch; girls three-legged race, Barbara Gorst; boys fifty-yard race, George Cowan, Jr.; girls fifty-yard race, Freda Mae Holsapfel and Lewis Zoerb.

Auxiliary members have plans made for an all-day outing at El Rio Beach, on August 18, with friends as special guests.

On August 26, a special fund raising event is planned, to aid in the support of the Eagles building in Boys Town.

Next regular meeting, however, is slated for August 1, in the Eagles Hall, South Jefferson street.

BRIDE ELECT FETED

AT SHOWER PARTY

No Plastic Washers

It has frequently been said that there will be a period of prosperity after this war as a result of the backlog of purchasing of civilian goods, not obtainable while the conflict is in progress. Now it appears that because of the fanciful prophecies of designers concerning postwar furniture and household appliances there has arisen a fear that the potential customers will not make purchases in the number expected, but will await the imaginary products of the dreaming designers.

If such were the case, there would not be the prosperity predicted, but lagging business in these fields, with resultant unemployment. And the dream world would be farther off than ever for many householders.

Representatives of manufacturing firms and heads of manufacturers' associations recently warned retailers of furniture and home appliances that they are in for some rude shocks if they think that they will have radically new and different products to sell immediately after the war. They said it will be several years instead of several months before new models utilizing radically different materials, designs and production methods developed during the war will be ready for the public.

A reporter recently interviewed a large group of manufacturers' representatives in Chicago, and they made some right smart remarks about what not to expect when peace terms are concluded. John M. Wicht, president of the American Washer and Ironer Association, said the public need not look for plastic washing machines or jet propulsion ironers.

Harry M. Kelley, sales manager of a General Motors Company division, assailed what he termed the "fanciful noodling" of designers who have led the public to expect ranges which can be transformed into cocktail bars and combination clothes and dish washers. Richard N. Greenwood, president of the National Association of Furniture Manufacturers, says that postwar furniture "will not be radically different, I doubt if we will see much of the visionary plastic types. Wood and steel are still the cheapest and best materials."

In short, the manufacturers' representatives and association heads said that the radios, refrigerators, vacuum cleaners, bedding and furniture that will be turned out in the immediate postwar period will be, with few exceptions, the same models that were in production before the war started.

Give Their Facts

It's to be hoped the conferences under way in New York will open the way to restoring some sanity to the official censorship of books for our soldiers.

Granting that the law fathered by Senator Taft, to protect the armed forces from political propaganda in an election year, was so carelessly drawn as to permit censorship to run wild, Army authorities might have used a little more common sense in its application without incurring its prescribed penalties.

After all, if the soldiers are going to vote, what's so terrible in letting them know what they're voting about? Perhaps they shouldn't be bothered by bombardments of campaign documents, a condition which Congress sought to prevent. That purpose is accomplished by this law. But to stretch its provisions to cover books like a biography of the late Justice Holmes and a primer on our form of government raises the censorship to the height of silliness.

The absurdity is increased by the fact that some of the books banned by the War Department originally appeared in magazines to which the servicemen were allowed free access.

Senator Taft will tell Army officials today that their too-literal interpretation of the law has gone far beyond the intent of Congress in prohibiting propaganda designed or calculated to effect the result of a Federal election.

Even if the Army censors now see the light, the best thing to do is to revamp the language of the Taft provision to make it clear beyond possibility of misunderstanding. If our soldiers are old enough to vote, they are old enough to be treated as grown-ups, not children.

Best Fighting Man

Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery warned before the invasion of Europe that the Germans would be hard to dislodge. Put Nazi soldiers in a territory and let them remain long enough and it "takes a bit of doing to get them off," were his words.

The Germans had been in France four years, certainly long enough to qualify for the toughness the British commander credited them with. Yet American soldiers, mostly classified as green troops, ousted them from a sizeable chunk of territory in less than two months.

So-called green divisions burst through some of the strongest fortifications on the beachhead. It was the first time they had hit anything remotely resembling the German fortifications, but the doughboys went through. These gains were made, it must be remembered, against troops which were seasoned in battle, having served in France, Poland, Italy and Russia. Even American commanders, who had profound faith in the fighting ability of their troops, were impressed by their accomplishments.

Results being obtained in France prove the basic training of American soldiers is sound. Months of training no longer are thought of as unnecessary days of grind and trouble. Drills, rehearsals, maneuvers, marches—once thought to be the whims of hard-boiled officers—are paying dividends in France and elsewhere.

There is general agreement that the American soldier, odds being equal, is the best fighting man the world has ever known.

Pig-Headed

Hitler's school of strategy has a glaring weakness. It holds on to seized territory with a fanaticism that usually results in disaster. It was so at Stalingrad, in the Ukraine, Crimea, White Russia. The story is being repeated in the Baltic states. It spelled defeat for the Nazis in North Africa and in southern Italy. But nowhere did the Nazis hang on with more stubborn tenacity than in Normandy. But there, too, the story will be the same—disaster for the Germans. In civilian life this characteristic often is termed "pig-headedness."

Washington Calling

By MARQUIS CHILDS

By MARQUIS CHILDS

CHICAGO—A significant cross current in this curious convention comes out of the conflict between the new labor politicians and the Democratic regulars.

Organized labor, and particularly the CIO, wants to make its position known. The professional politicians who must do the spade work in the campaign are well aware that they need labor's full support. But they would like to have labor come in as a silent partner.

CIO Political Action

Chairman Hannegan and the men he works with through the country are afraid the amateuism of men like Sidney Hillman, chairman of the CIO political action committee, which has now been converted into the National Citizens' Political Action committee.

They fear too that, with Hillman throwing his weight about publicly, the labor left-wing tag will be fixed on the Democratic party too firmly for comfort. When Hillman announced formation of his committee and the fact that $700,000 was available for the re-election of Roosevelt, the professionals groaned.

"You just don't boast about that sort of thing," they protested to Hillman.

He is not inclined to listen to their protests. Head of the powerful Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America since 1914, Hillman is accustomed to having his own way. His somewhat high-handed approach to national politics often leaves resentment behind.

A big luncheon rally was held not long ago at Denver. Liberal Farm and all the Labor groups were gathered together. Entering at the last minute with his entourage, Hillman proceeded to tell the westerners what their course should be in the coming campaign. Then he departed, leaving behind something less than enthusiasm.

Not Adaptable

Hillman's temperament is not adapted to the give and take of national politics, just as it was not adapted to the inevitable compromises of wartime Washington. Teamed up with Lt. Gen. William Knudsen in an early phase of war production, Hillman soon went back to his union.

At his big press conference here, however, he showed remarkable self-restraint. The politicians, who were trying behind the scenes to chart the course of the convention, feared an announcement that, as a second choice, the CIO would turn from Vice President Wallace to Senator Truman. This would have opened the way to opposition charges that Labor was dictating what the delegates should do.

The dictation charge is, of course, silly. The CIO is apparently taking Roosevelt in blind faith. If any promises or pledges have been enacted, they are a deep secret. This has caused a certain restiveness among some of the Laborites who insist that Labor should have bargained for its support, exacting specific pledges from FDR.

Platform Pledges

The Democratic platform may give Labor something tangible, although platform pledges mean little. Certainly there is next to nothing for Labor to cling to in the Republican document.

Between the Labor wing and the regular wing of the party a regular jealousy enters in. The CIO, like the camel in the fable, has its nose under the Democratic tent. Party professionals are fearful of being crowded into the back-ground.

In the finalizing that went on over the vice presidency, the professionals were anxious to drop Wallace as a vice-presidential pick. That would let him down without a bump. Therefore they resented it when Phil Murray, in his Scotch burr, forced the Pennsylvania delegation to say yes or no on the Wallace question.

Rivalry and suspicion existing between the two wings will undoubtedly be a factor in the coming campaign. Some sort of working arrangement will bridge over the rift, but it can hardly reconcile two such radically different ways of looking at politics.

The Labor crowd believe in the attack direct. The regulars think that finesse is necessary to bring in voters of every shade of opinion. That is the lessons of experience they're trying to impress on their new brethren.

The Parent Problem

By Gary C. Myers, Ph. D.

UNDERSTANDING MENTAL ILLS

Physical illness in parents handicaps their growing children. But mental illness is even more of a handicap. In the United States every other child in our hospitals is the child of a mentally ill parent.

Many more persons with mental ailments are being treated in their homes and still more going about with no professional care.

Where I mentally ill I would prefer to go to a hospital. This would be better for my family and better for me. I could have better treatment and care than elsewhere with better chance for recovery. Nor would it need to be a private hospital or sanitarium. Most of our county city and state hospitals for the mentally sick, insane would be good enough for me or anybody else.

My chances for returning from one of these public hospitals cured would be about as good as if my family had reduced themselves to poverty to provide private treatment for me.

Progress In Treatment

Of course I'm not fighting on losing my mind, no sensible person does. Just as no sensible person figures while physically well on being sick. Nevertheless, every wise adult, especially parent, has in mind or definitely plans, ways and means for his care should he be taken suddenly sick. Since the chances for his illness to be mental are about as great as it is to be physical, why should he not give the same kind of consideration to this possibility?

From the time when the insane were supposed to be possessed of the Devil until today great progress has been made in dealing with the mentally sick among us. As high as 80% of those sent to hospitals are returned to their families cured, also a larger proportion of those who might otherwise become seriously ill mentally, even permanently insane, are restored to normal mental and emotional health through the aid of the psychiatrist.

Our attention is turning more and more to ways and means of preventing such illness. Experts pretty well agree that most mental sickness can be prevented. Though war with all its physical and mental agonies inevitably increases mental illness in general, certain types of mental sickness have decreased in England during this war. Having something to do for a common cause keeps certain persons from selfishly centering their thoughts on themselves.

Sensible Attitude
Yet with all the progress of medical science in care and prevention of mental illness, and the growing public interest in providing proper public care of the mentally sick, we still have a long way to go to act and feel sensibly toward mental illness in others, especially if they happen to be members of our own family. What fathers and mothers talk and act in the same manner toward an adolescent son or daughter, wife or husband in a hospital under treatment for mental sickness as if that person were in a hospital under treatment for pneumonia or any other physical disease? Just consider what this fact means to the family, especially to the patient. What a handicap it is to the patient being discharged as cured and sent back home.

I have prepared a selected list of books on "Mental Health and Personality" to be had without cost, by writing me at 245th East 43th Street, New York City, enclosing a three-cent stamp on it. Most of these books may be found in a good public library.

FACTOGRAPHS
In the early days of pharmacy druggists often wrote their prescriptions in poetry. The practice was not so much a literary urge as it was an attempt to make it easier to remember formulas and thus reduce the chances of mistakes.

The average United States expenditure per month for war now exceeds the largest amount ever avoided in a single peacetime year.

Navy Leaders See No Near Jap Collapse

Believe Nips Will Fight Two More Years

New Developments Seen In Sedition Trial

By HELEN ESSARY

(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, July 21—Despite the smashing progress made by American forces against the Japanese in the Pacific, conservative navy men do not expect the enemy to collapse before late 1945 or early 1946.

What worries most naval officers is the fact that the constant victories will result in a serious disruption of needed production at home as more and more workers try to find steady jobs they can keep in peacetime.

Such reduction in war work as a matter of fact may prolong the war against Japan if some critical material does not reach the front lines in sufficient quantities.

No military or naval expert will venture to predict how long it will take to crush the huge Jap armies in the Philippines, China and on the enemy homeland.

What some naval officers fear is that if the war in the Pacific drags out too long, some people at home will begin to talk about a negotiated peace.

Want Japan Crushed

Military and naval officers want a green light to keep hammering Japan until she is crushed as a world military power. They don't want to fight another war in the Pacific 20 years from now.

Many smashing new victories are in store for American forces in the coming weeks, but don't let the headlines about them fool you into believing that the war is about over. It is not!

The mass sedition trial continues to sprout new and unusual developments with Chief Justice Edward S. Tamm outsting out defense lawyer while another took the virtually unprecedented step of seeking to quit the case without awaiting the court's permission.

Also almost without precedent was the act of one lawyer in posing on the courthouse steps wearing a badge bearing the letters "E. C. C." interpreted as meaning "Eichey Contempt Club."

Contempt Badges

Justice Eichey conducted an inquiry that revealed that seven lawyers whom he had fined for contempt of court were wearing them—but he accepted the lawyers' explanation that it was "all in fun."

Meanwhile, the official transcript of the proceedings with the case apparently no more than well started, has grown to about a million and a half words.

Newly declared emphatically that the supreme court eventually will have to read it.

Many vegetables now point-frees are expected to follow canned peas, tomatoes and asparagus back on the rationed list, perhaps when the new tables are announced for August.

In announcing the restoration of the three vegetables to the list, OPA Chief Bowles said the changes were in line with OPA's earlier statement that points would be restored when the remainder of the 1945 pack was cleared up.

Indicating that this time is near, Bowles said, "We are already getting into the new canning season, the problem now is to distribute this year's output of canned vegetables evenly giving everyone opportunity to buy his share."

Other canned vegetables still rationed are green and wax beans, beets, carrots, corn, spinach and leafy greens.

LETTER FROM JOE

Joe writes: "Time was I talked as you."

Of Catholic, Protestant and Jew. Though difference of creed and birth meant also difference of worth. Time was and I must tell you this—

Our minds were sick with prejudice. But since in peril we have stood. We have discovered brotherhood. Who shares an open ear at sea soon learns how brave his mate can be.

Just what they will or will not do. Though Catholic, Protestant or Jew.

All difference of caste and creed is dropped when courage is the need. Then one and all, or black and white.

In purpose and in prayer unite. When we get back its this we'll know.

Man's worth is of the inner glow. Not of his spoken creed or prayer. But of his willingness to share. His willingness of mind and heart.

Whatever the task to do his part. For when in peril men have stood. They've lived and practiced brotherhood.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

A failure judge has just rendered a decision which should be of the most far-reaching importance to the life of our nation.

A woman war worker had accused her husband of stealing $100 from her and haled him into court.

According to the complaint, she had hung up her slacks when going to bed and he had gone through them and taken out the money.

The judge dismissed the complaint and the defendant. He ruled that the old law that one party to a marriage cannot be guilty of larceny of the other's property, is reciprocal and commented:

"The court takes judicial notice that from time immemorial it has been the custom of the wife to dip her hands into the pockets of her husband."

So, by the same reasoning, he went on, a husband has the same right in respect to his wife. Well, that is a learned judge's opinion but it isn't mine.

Pupils To March In Playground Parade

Miss Venetia Fazzone, directress of the Mahoningtown playground announces that plans are being made to take part in the parade sponsored by the city playgrounds on Saturday, July 29.

Besides the boys and girls who attend the playground, members of the Mahoning school band will also march in the parade.

Miss Fazzone desires a large representation in the parade from among the boys and girls of the ward playground. The parade will form at 7:30 on the grounds near Conn's Welding Shop, South Croton avenue near South Mill street.

This afternoon, commencing at 2 o'clock, a hobby show was held at the playground.

SNAKE BITES BOY
GASH NOT SERIOUS

While on a hike Wednesday evening to Flower Valley, in the district with three of his friends, Conde Augustine of 511 West Cherry street, was bitten on the chin by a black snake.

The boys stepped upon a log to cross a small stream, the log, which proved to be quite rotten, broke apart, when the boys fell. Conde, having fallen, was bitten by the snake which was at the stream's edge. Later, when the boys reached home, he received medical treatment. It was found that the bite was in the form of a gash, and was not serious. His companions on the hike were Tommy Tommelleo, Bob Anderson and Jimmy Piscitelli.

Reveals Increase

PITTSBURGH, July 21.—(INS)—Following a steady four-week decline ending with the week of July 4, business in the Pittsburgh district last week jumped more than eight points to recover nearly all of the month-long drop. Pitt's bureau of business research today reported. The seasonally-adjusted index stood at 173.9 per cent of the 1935-39 average, as against 165.5 for the preceding week. Pronounced gains were reported by all major industries in the district. Steel rose to 90-91 per cent of capacity, electric power output and bituminous coal production reached levels prevailing late in June and rail and river traffic reflected "similar large increases."

Texans Seething Over Brush-Off

Threaten 23 Electoral Votes Will Go To Somebody Else Than Roosevelt

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, July 21.—(INS)—Leaders of the "Dixie Revolt," rebuffed by the Democratic National Convention predicted today that the flames of the anti-New Deal rebellion will sweep over many southern states and may decisively affect the presidential election.

The convention refused to seat the full anti-New Deal Texas delegation. Instead it voted to divide Texas' votes between the regular anti-New Deal and "rump" pro-Roosevelt delegations, with the result that most of the regular delegation walked out of the convention.

E. B. Germany, leader of the anti-New Deal Texas forces, declared: "This means that the 23 Texas electoral votes cannot go to President Roosevelt. These electors are morally bound to vote for some other Democrat in the electoral college."

Protest Short

The anti-New Deal southerners fell short of their protest vote goal when Sen. Harry F. Byrd, of Virginia, received 89 votes against Mr. Roosevelt. Leaders of the anti-New Deal movement had hoped to rally a least 125 votes against a fourth term nomination.

Jubilant New Dealers, ridiculing and condemning the anti-New Deal movement, pointed out that Mr. Roosevelt received twice as many southern delegation votes in the convention as did Byrd.

"Texas will go Democratic by the greatest majority in history," boasted Chairman Henry Jones of the pro-Roosevelt delegation.

Action of the convention in adopting a platform interpreted as pledging abolition of the poll tax, however, may bring reverberations in the south.

The platform makers rejected demands of Texas for a racial segregation plank. But the declaration on the Negro question was considered a mild reaffirmation of the constitution by some southerners, who refused to join in an effort to obtain a convention vote on the issue.

Political Capital

The anti-New Deal southerners, however, planned to make political capital out of the partial ousting of the Texas delegation on the ground that it was in itself an attack on states rights. They also charged that the south was ignored in all important convention deliberations.

"Sidney Hillman of the CIO controlled the convention," asserted Germany. Hillman's men were on all convention committees. With the Negroes he ran the show. The south will resent the powerful Communist dictatorship to the convention."

He also attacked Vice-President Wallace, charging that Wallace, in his speech seconding Mr. Roosevelt's renomination, adopted the CIO line and "told the south to go jump in the lake."

Meantime, John J. O'Connor of New York, executive chairman of the American National Democratic committee, predicted that anti-New Dealers will wage a vigorous fight to defeat Mr. Roosevelt in every state in the Union.

ASSAULT TROOPS STORM BEACHES, MAKE PROGRESS

7, 1941, has been anticipated since Americans invaded Saipan island about 150 miles northeast.

In an early morning communique Pacific fleet headquarters said marines and army troops established beachheads on Guam July 20 with the support of carrier aircraft and surface units of the mighty Fifth Fleet.

"The landings on Guam are continuing against moderate ground opposition," the communique said.

Thus American fighting men returned to the far Pacific outpost approximately two and one half years after the Japanese seized that territory with little opposition from a small marine garrison.

Heavy Support

The navy said that the early waves of assault forces were being supported by planes and warships which were hammering enemy defenses on the island, approximately 120 miles southwest of recently-captured Saipan.

The amphibious operations are being directed by Rear Admiral Richard L. Connolly. The expeditionary troops are under the command of Marine Maj. Gen. Roy S. Geiger, commanding general of the Third Amphibious Corps.

It was on Dec. 13, 1941 that the navy department issued its somber communique No. 5, which merely stated that contact had been lost with Guam either by radio or cable.

At that time the navy conceded capture of the island and reported that the defending force consisted of less than 400 naval personnel and 155 marines.

The landings on Guam have been anticipated ever since powerful American forces invaded the nearby Japanese island of Saipan and captured that important base.

Even while fighting was still under way on Saipan, American carrier planes and supporting battleships, cruisers and destroyers began softening up the defense of Guam in preparation for the current landings.

Light Opposition

The statement in the communique that "moderate ground opposition" is being encountered indicated that Japanese defense forces suffered heavy casualties in the pre-invasion shelling and bombing assaults.

Anticipated capture of Guam will give the United States another important springboard for further moves toward the Philippines and Japan, each of which are approximately 1,400 miles beyond the Marianas.

American four-motored bombers already are operating from captured Japanese airfields on Saipan and it is expected that in the near future similar forays will be made from fields on Guam.

Following is the text of Pacific fleet communique No. 82 which was issued simultaneously in Washington and Pearl Harbor:

"United States Marines and Army assault troops established beachheads on Guam Island on July 20 (west longitude date), with the support of carrier aircraft and surface combat units of the Fifth fleet. Enemy defenses are being heavily bombed and shelled at close range. Amphibious operations against Guam Island are being directed by Rear Admiral Richard L. Connolly U. S. Navy.

"Expeditionary troops are commanded by Maj. Gen. Roy S. Geiger, USMC, commanding general Third Amphibious Corps.

"The landings on Guam are continuing against moderate ground opposition.

Seal Doom

The landings virtually sealed the doom of Japanese garrisons on the enemy islands of Rota and Tinian which lie in the short stretch of sea between Guam and Saipan.

Enemy defenses on Tinian already are being "neutralized" by American planes and coastal artillery operating from Saipan.

The winning campaign to seize the strategic islands in the Marianas began in mid-June when U. S. Marines and Army troops stormed over the beaches of Saipan.

Despite powerful opposition by the Japanese, the defenders of Saipan were overwhelmed in less than a month and only yesterday Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, Pacific fleet chief, announced that nearly 20,000 Japanese troops had been buried by American forces on the island.

The Japanese made only one serious attempt to bolster their Marianas garrison when they sent in powerful fleet units to blast the American invading fleet shortly after the landings on Saipan.

However, American carrier-based planes from powerful task force 58 intercepted the Jap fleet off the Philippines and sent it reeling back into hiding after inflicting heavy damage on carriers, battleships and other warships in a dusk attack.

Lumber Freeze Branded 'Mess'

Lumber Official Decries Order Cutting Civilian Lumber Sales

PITTSBURGH, July 21.—(INS)—The War Production board order cutting unrationed civilian lumber sales to the home today stood branded by J. O. McLean, vice president of the Lumber Dealers Association of Western Pennsylvania as "a chaotic mess that hurls the big and little fellow alike."

Under the order, effective for the third period beginning August 1 every lumber dealer in the nation is restricted from selling more than 2,000 board feet of lumber—slightly more than one-fourth of a freight car load. To fulfill war orders and other essential needs, unrationed civilian allocations have been slashed to the all-time low of 2.5 per cent for the three-month period.

"When one dares to remonstrate with a Washington order he is called a prince of privilege or an economic royalist," McLean complained. "We lumbermen have sons and daughters in the service and we are as patriotic as any group."

"We ought to appeal to sell more than 8,000 feet during a quarter but in appealing let everyone be reasonable and ask for no more than is necessary. The more you read the order the more bawled up you become. The whole thing is a chaotic mess."

SMOKE SCARE

City firemen were called to Gustav's bakery, 306 E. Washington street, at 8:15 o'clock Thursday evening by an alarm from box 26. A mop, which had been placed over a grating in the rear of store caught fire and smoke came through the building, causing them to think the building was afire.

There are said to be more species of minerals found in North Carolina than in any other state.

Dewey-Johnston Conferring Today

ALBANY, N. Y., July 21.—(INS)—During his attention to international affairs and the problems of American business, Governor Thomas E. Dewey, Republican presidential nominee, was to confer today with Eric A. Johnston, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

The governor, it was assumed, would talk with Johnston about his recent extensive tour of Russia during which he talked on several occasions with Joseph Stalin, returning to the United States with an assertion that American industry will be able to do business with Russia after the war.

June Sets Record For Job Placements

Over 800 Workers Placed In June In Spite Of Labor Scarcity, Employment Office Says

In spite of a dwindling labor supply, June was a record-breaking month for the placing of workers in essential industries in this locality as well as throughout the state, according to G. O. Anderson, head of the local United States Employment Service office.

Eight hundred and thirty-eight workers were placed in this county alone during June, as compared to 776 during May. Mr. Anderson said in the 14 counties which make up this area, 9,313 workers were placed as compared to 7,756 placements in May.

As a whole, "the 57,800 workers placed in essential jobs in Pennsylvania during June represented a 23 per cent increase over the figures for May, and a 47 per cent increase over June, 1943, according to the State War Manpower commission. Director Florian Boland stated that a majority of the placements were made in the iron and steel industry.

Southern Germany Targets Are Hit

LONDON, July 21.—(INS)—More than 1100 Fortresses and Liberators, escorted by very strong forces of fighter planes, attacked aircraft assembly plants at Regensburg, a ballbearing factory at Schweinfurt, Ebelbach and a number of other targets this morning.

A U. S. headquarters announcement said that the factories at Regensburg and Ebelbach were bombed visually in good weather. Clouds obscured some of the other targets.

All of the targets hit are in southern Germany. The factories at Regensburg and Schweinfurt have been heavily damaged in previous attacks, but have since been partially rebuilt or repaired.

Alcoa Resists Guarantee Plan

Aluminum Officials Say Year Round Pay Guarantee Would Break Company

PITTSBURGH, July 21.—(INS)—Besides insisting that the War Labor Board has no jurisdiction over such a matter, a spokesman for the Aluminum Company of America today insisted the firm would "go broke in two years" if forced to give its employees a guarantee of 52 weeks' pay of 40 hours a week.

Resisting demands by the CIO-Aluminum Workers Union for the guaranteed annual wage, which it asks the War Labor Board to grant along with a variety of other benefits, Attorney Harry S. Flynn of Alcoa's personnel department told a three-member special WLB panel hearing the case in Pittsburgh:

"It is perfectly obvious that the union by this request, is attempting to gain social security benefits for its members that will extend into peacetime earnings, which reflect the present high wartime earnings."

The firm's assistant personnel director, Robert A. Learnard, added that the annual wage, if enforced, would deplete Alcoa's resources in two years.

Cites Freedoms

Learnard said the wartime payroll of the Aluminum company in 44 plants last year was $184,000,000, whereas the average total receipts during 1936-39, peak peacetime years, were only $118,000,000.

Benjamin Fischer, union spokesman, however, defended the annual wage guarantee as a means to create freedom from want and freedom from fear among aluminum workers in the postwar world, declaring the workers preferred full employment to "pitiful unemployment compensation payments."

The annual wage issue is one of 17 contract demands, outside of wage increase factors, which were left unsettled by negotiations between the union and the company. The wage demands made for 35,000 workers in 20 Alcoa plants, would, if granted, smash the "little steel" wage formula.

The hearings ended last night.

Monetary Session Will End Saturday

Proposed Ten Billion Dollar Bank For Reconstruction Still Is Unsolved Question

BRETTON WOODS, N. H., July 21.—(INS)—The United Nations monetary and financial conference drew towards a close today with the proposed ten billion dollar bank for reconstruction and development still an unsolved problem.

Dissent from Russia, French, Norwegian and Australian delegates regarding the quotas and subscriptions they should make to the bank proved the stumbling block to agreement.

However, the delegates were agreed on the establishment of foreign exchange rates and also agreed on a system of post war short term trade movements.

The conference is scheduled to close tomorrow night with a banquet and plenary session. American delegates said they believed that quotas for the $10,000,000,000 reconstruction bank will be voted despite the protests of the delegates and then allow the protesting countries register their reservations if they wished.

It was still hoped, however, that some of the dissatisfied countries would cable their delegates new instructions which would pave the way for final settlement of the problem.

West Middlesex Pastor In Navy Chaplain Corps

Rev. Stewart Harro, Commissioned In Navy, To Be Given Farewell Tonight

Rev. Stewart Harro, pastor of the West Middlesex Presbyterian church for the past six years, who has been commissioned as a lieutenant junior grade in the chaplain corps of the U. S. Navy, will be honored at a farewell party at 8 o'clock this evening at the West Middlesex church.

Rev. Harro will leave Sunday morning to report to Williams and Mary college, Williamsburg, Va., for an indoctrination course. Mrs. Harro will go to England to stay with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Welch.

Rev. Harro assumed his present charge in June 1938 after receiving a master's degree at Western Seminary, Pittsburgh. He is a graduate of Wheaton college, Wheaton, Ill., and Dallas Theological Seminary, Dallas, Tex.

Pfc. Ralph Russo Injured In Action

Parents Notified Son Wounded In Invasion Battle In France June 6

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Russo of 512 Pearson street received a telegram from the adjutant general of the war department, Washington, D. C., stating that their son, Pfc. Ralph A. Russo, age 27 years, was wounded in action on June 6, in the invasion battle in France.

Pfc. Russo is now confined in an English hospital. Further word of his condition will be sent to the family.

He has been in service since May 5, 1941, and has been serving overseas since October 1942. Another son, Andrew Russo, 22, of Norfolk, Va., underwent a recent operation and is convalescing at Deshon hospital.

Sift Proposals For State Work

Scores Of Suggested Improvements To Follow War Taken By PPC

By JAMES H. SMITH
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, July 21.—Scores of suggested improvements were before the postwar planning commission today as members undertook to sift proposals prior to making recommendations for specific projects to Gov. Edward Martin September 20.

The 10-member agency, operating under a $200,000 appropriation from the general assembly, spurred activities as hostilities in Europe neared a showdown and pointed up the immediate necessity for definite plans to soften the impact of unemployment during the period of industrial reconversion.

Henry W. Prentiss, Jr., Lancaster businessman and chairman of the coordinating agency, indicated the commission's second meeting Wednesday at the state capitol was confined to sketching preliminary operational procedure.

Definite Assignments

"We decided to make definite assignments to the various departments which will result in a concrete program that ultimately will be presented to the governor," Prentiss said.

He added that the September meeting at Harrisburg would be followed by a conference with municipal officials and civic leaders at Philadelphia October 6.

Simultaneously, Prentiss announced the commissioners had decided to retain Mark S. James of Pittsburgh as executive director at $10,000 a year and disclosed that Ira F. Lewis, Pittsburgh Negro leader, had resigned due to ill health. Prentiss emphasized, however, that James was not rejected.

Proposals advanced for the commission's consideration included a half-billion dollar statewide sewage improvement program, airport improvement, highway reconstruction and the rehabilitation of war veterans.

The commission, established by the legislature in 1943 at Governor Martin's recommendation, will operate under a long range program embracing a proposed $50,000,000 bond issue.

Shrine Ceremonial Plans Arranged

Lawrence Caravan Of Syria Temple Plans Stag Picnic For Next Week

Lawrence Caravan of Syria Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S., has virtually completed plans for the big shrine ceremonial, which will be staged here on September 30.

As a preliminary function, all nobles of the county will gather at El Rio Beach, along Neshannock creek, Wednesday, July 26, for a stag picnic beginning at 4 P. M., bearing the smile and spirit of the shrine. This event will be carried out, rain or shine.

Nobles having no means of transportation will meet at the city building, East and Washington streets.

JINGLING MONEY
GREEN ISLAND, New Ireland—INS—American silver dollars have such a fascination for New Zealand troops that the supply once owned by U. S. Seabees has been exhausted. Many of the Kiwis like to fasten a silver dollar on a chain and wear it as an ornament. Others use them on wristbands. The rest apparently just like to hear them jingle in their pockets.

Joseph C. Grew Urges Caution

Former Ambassador Says System In Japan Same Despite Tojo's Resignation

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(INS)—Joseph C. Grew, who served as United States ambassador in Japan for 10 years, declared Thursday that the resignation of the Tojo cabinet "is the clearest possible admission of unprecedented defeats sustained by the Japanese armed forces."

In a formal statement released for direct quotation—an unusual procedure in the state department—Grew said that the cabinet change in Tokyo implied three things. The first was the admission of defeat.

"Second," Grew said, "it follows the usual Japanese pattern of the acceptance of personal responsibility for failures."

"Third, it implies the necessity of bolstering a weakening morale on the part of the Japanese people, by giving them something in the nature of a new government, although we do not know whether Tojo will resign or not."

Grew was cautious, however, against over-optimism. He said: "In this connection, I would express a word of caution. In all probability, the change of government in Japan will entail no fundamental change of policy in fighting the war to the bitter end for the old do-or-die fanatical spirit is deeply engrained in the Japanese race."

"It is also important to bear in mind that Tojo is only one of a group and he is not a personal dictator in the European sense."

"The dictatorship," Grew said, "is exercised by a group which is still in power. It would be shortsighted and dangerous to the full prosecution of our own war effort to allow this change to null us into any wishful thinking or false optimism."

The U. S. Senate has sat as a court of impeachment 12 times in 125 years. It has removed four men from federal offices.

Soldier Is Held In Store Bombing Case

PITTSBURGH, July 21.—(INS)—On the heels of the mysterious bombing of a newly opened neighborhood confectionary store, Pittsburgh police today were holding its three owners and the owner of a nearby store on numbers charges.

The bomb blast in the Brushton section of the city yesterday caused an estimated $1,500 damage. Investigating the explosion, police arrested Thomas Mullen, 28, a soldier home on furlough and, besides charging him with conducting a numbers headquarters, quoted him as having allegedly threatened to "put other numbers joints out of business."

Crash With Trailer Kills Four Persons

PITTSBURGH, July 21.—(INS)—Authorities today reported four Washington, Pa., residents, returning from a day's trip to Meadville, were killed last night in a collision with a trailer-truck on Route 19 near the Clifton school, Upper St. Clair township. The dead are: Warren J. Porter, 55, and his wife, Mrs. Beatrice Porter, 43; Porter's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Porter, 77, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Fannie Porter, 50. Police said one trailer-truck was towing another when a wheel came off the towed truck and it jackknifed into the path of the Porter car. Gasoline from the truck sprayed over the wrecked automobile and caught fire. Porter was trapped beneath the wheel and was burned to death. The three women died of fractured skulls.

Says Boy Was Shot Instead Of Crane

GETTYSBURG, Pa., July 21.—(INS)—Seventy-five-year-old Charles H. Rothenhoeffer faced a charge today of "killing a human being in mistake for a wild animal" following the death of William McCauslin, 12, of Aspers. A warrant was issued for Rothenhoeffer after State Police Pvt. Harold Trout investigated the boy's death and testified the aged man had said he believed he was shooting a fish crane.

Registration Lags For Blood Donations

GROVE CITY, July 21.—Registrations for the visit here of the Red Cross mobile blood unit, August 7-10, are lagging, according to Chairman D. A. Shelley, who is redoubling efforts to enroll 1200 volunteers. Volunteers enrolled at the Cooper-Bessemer plant have raised the number, but it is still below schedule, and additional means will be used if the goal is not achieved by next week.

GRAIN REPORT SHOWS SHORTAGE OF FEEDS

HARRISBURG — Reflecting the livestock and poultry feed scarcity, there were approximately two and a half million fewer bushels of corn on Pennsylvania farms as of July 1 than a year earlier, a recent report by the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service in the State Department of Agriculture disclosed. Stocks of corn on hand July 1 were estimated at 7,004,000 bushels compared with 9,555,000 bushels on July 1, 1943 and the 1933-42 average of 8,418,000 bushels.

Oats stocks on the date of the survey totaled 1,934,000 bushels compared with 3,641,000 a year earlier and 3,997,000 for the 10-year average for the July 1 date.

Old crop wheat on hand July 1 of this year totaled 1,142,000 bushels compared with 1,683 on hand July 1, 1943, and 1,504,000 for the 10-year average.

STEEL WORKERS NEEDED
YOUNGSTOWN, O. — (INS) — Manpower shortage in Mahoning Valley steel plants, largest employers of labor in Youngstown, has become so acute that some plants may soon be forced to shut down some minor departments to supply enough workers to keep war-important departments operating. Valley steel concerns indicated today that they need at least several thousand workmen, especially skilled steelmen, to maintain efficient operations. Diaz rounded the Cape of Good Hope in 1487.

Post War Plan Should Start

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright—1944—Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.

BABSON PARK, Mass., July 21—In most of its phases, American business has expanded and profited during the war. Many plants have been greatly enlarged while much corporate debt has been eliminated. Labor has profited from increased wages. This in turn has helped retail merchants. Most individuals also will come through the war in fair financial shape.

In the immediate postwar era business has even greater possibilities. There should be a tremendous demand for goods and services heretofore unavailable. With individuals holding the largest amount of savings in the history of the country, there should be plenty of customers. However, business must produce the goods and create employment opportunities. This can be done but necessitates planning now with the hearty co-operation of employers, labor leaders and government.

Uncertainties to Overcome
Manufacturers must decide what new products they must make to take the place of their present war output. Most of them should arrange for the sale or junking of obsolete equipment and the purchase of new machinery. They should get rid of surplus inventories no longer needed. They should now study markets for their new products and figure costs and prices. If different types of workers are to be employed, classes for their instruction should now be planned. Tentative production schedules should now be whipped into shape.

Many uncertainties affecting all businessmen await government action. Such action will include the okaying of definite plans for reconversion, postwar taxation and whether or not controls will continue in effect after the war on material, prices and labor. Furthermore, only the government can act on the disposal of government-owned plants and surplus government stocks of goods and commodities. The E. Ruch-Hancock report emphasizes "the necessity for postwar government action on all postwar plans. Wise employers, however, will not wait for the government to act."

Outlook for Labor
The great single problem threatening American prosperity is labor. Manufacturers are already being "lured" to drop many employees. By the end of the third quarter we may experience a labor surplus. At the end of the war there may be 10,000,000 war workers unemployed. While we will naturally keep a large standing army and navy, there may be another 10,000,000 demobilized service men, making a total of 20,000,000.

If business is unable to maintain a fairly full rate of employment in the postwar era, aside from the normal floating supply of unemployed which might total 3,000,000 of 4,000,000, we are apt to face serious difficulties. Repairs to war-torn Russia, England, France, North Africa and other countries will readily absorb labor there. If, for example, Russia is able to have full employment after the war and the United States is not, what will our workers think? Such a situation could be the end of labor unions and their leaders would be among the unemployed.

Many individual workers already see the handwriting on the wall and are quietly trying to get more permanent positions. Organized labor is exerting great political pressure to prevent the shutting down of many plants regardless of the fact that war requirements may already be filled. Certainly, there will be little aircraft or shipbuilding construction after the war. However, chemicals, building, automobiles and iron and steel should be active. These industries will employ many millions. Many others will be employed in road building and in the construction of public works. Nevertheless, the matter of postwar employment may prove a serious matter.

Political Outlook Bullish
The ramifications of current business problems and those of the immediate postwar period are so many I cannot emphasize too strongly the need for efficient research and planning departments. Managements should give attention first, to broad plans, and secondly, to the details of their companies' activities following the end of the war. From the standpoint of business, the political situation is now more hopeful than it has been for years. The Dewey-Bricker ticket is a definite "go ahead" signal—win or lose. If we have sound government policies and a greater degree of co-operation between government and business and more co-operation between management and labor, we should have some good postwar years. Short-sighted businessmen and merchants will continue to fail as they always have failed—regardless of wars and regardless of periods of prosperity and periods of depression. Real workers—whether in the executive, white collar or union groups—will be able to take care of themselves.

Doll Show Held, Rain Or No Rain

Eleven Prizes Are Awarded At Laurel Playground Show; Winners To Be On Exhibition

In spite of the threatening weather, for dolls were entered in the Laurel playground doll show Thursday afternoon. Choosing between the entries was the job of Mrs. Marie Crum, Mrs. Arthur Mackey, Vundy Caritto, and Carl Appel. Judges before who the dolls were paraded.

First to arrive was Judy Dayton, bringing her colorful Hawaiian girl who won one of the prizes as the most unusual. Tommy Black's handmade doll was another unusual one, while Lianne Reiber's was voted the cutest.

Among the foreign dolls was a prize winner brought from Italy, dressed in native costume which was owned by Sylvia Tranquillo. Second prize for the foreign dolls was awarded to Nancy Richard for her chic French mademoiselle. Ethel Zangrilli and Barbara Monsey were the owners of the two prettiest dolls, and Barbara Flynn owned the largest in the contest. Lena Mae Cambro's Red Riding Hood doll was the smallest.

The most life-like costume was on the doll belonging to Nancy Lumley. Another first prize was taken by Gretchen Mackey who brought a collection of small native dolls, including an Indian and a little Amish girl.

Winning dolls from this contest are to be displayed in the window of Penney's store. The show was staged under the supervision of Miss Carolyn Cosel, director of the playground.

Gasoline Fumes Ignite Causing Serious Injuries To Jack Hickey Of Glenmore Boulevard

Jack Hickey, aged 14 years, of Glenmore Boulevard, was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital early Thursday afternoon for treatment of serious burns sustained in a gasoline explosion in a neighbor's garage.

Jack had been working about the lawn of Harold Good, of Glenmore Boulevard, it is said, and had gone into the garage for something. He struck a match to see better, and fumes from gasoline stored in the garage exploded.

He ran to the home of J. Clyde Gillfillan, across the street. Mrs. Gillfillan taking him to the hospital.

CONNECTICUT TOWN STUDIES RECONVERSION

Middletown Works On Model Plan
For 'Carrying On' After War's End

By RICHARD SHANER

(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

MIDDLETOWN, Conn.—Middletown, an average size community of 30,000, is working on a postwar planning program that has been described as a model for other cities faced with the problem of eventual reconversion.

The blueprints for the switchover from war production to peace-time pursuits are being worked out by a special body known as the Middletown Postwar Planning council.

Two Points Embraced

Two main points are embraced in the council's activities: 1—local initiative and responsibility and, 2—the need for adequate information on past, present and future economic conditions to meet conditions for postwar planning.

The council already has passed the first phase of the program, that involving organization of the sub-committees to study specific problems, and adoption of a preliminary procedure. It now is working on the second step, the collection of all essential information.

Plans To Be Mapped

This will be correlated by an overall committee and then the council will settle down to its actual mapping of plans to meet conditions that normally could be expected when the war comes to an end.

The Connecticut Public Expenditures council recently prepared a booklet on the Middletown plan and distributed it to 5,000 state businessmen, civic leaders and public officials.

As a guide to other communities seeking to adapt the plan to their own needs, the council recommended:

"An overall committee should be organized to provide a structural framework. The overall committee should represent every important aspect of the life in the community. The overall committee should determine what are the principal factors in the local postwar problems.

Women Can Be Helpful

"For each of the factors agreed upon, there should be a corresponding subcommittee whose members are chosen because of their special interest in or knowledge of the subject. Members of the subcommittee should be called upon for help in making up questionnaires and data forms. Women's organizations can be very helpful in conducting surveys and in digesting information concerning consumer demands for durable goods.

"Necessary facts should be gathered by the subcommittees, summarized and cleared through the research committee or whatever group or individual is responsible for correlation of facts.

To Understand Needs

"The overall committee, with the help of the research and other subcommittees, should correlate all information to determine the nature and aspect of the problem.

"The factual data should be translated into the indicated action at the proper time. If this part of the work is completed before the war ends the local postwar planning organization should be retained until these plans are translated into action."

Stars Volunteer For Navy Programs

Stressing the advantages of the Women's Reserve of the Navy, a new transcribed series of programs featuring Eddie Cantor, Helen Hayes, Frank Sinatra, Fred Waring, Clifton Fadiman, Benny Goodman, and many others is scheduled to debut on WKST Monday evening, July 24, from 7:15 to 7:30 o'clock.

Performers such as Cantor and Kate Smith brought along their whole shows for the program series in one of which Dorothy Siskney and Howard Line-day gave a modern take-off on "Life With Father."

Released throughout the nation the programs are aimed to help in the recruiting of young women for service with the Navy. The stars have all volunteered their work which, if paid for, would have cost at least $250,000.

Women who are interested in volunteering for duty as Waves, taking over Navy jobs as their contribution toward victory, may obtain further information from the Navy recruiting officer in the Post Office building.

Japanese Aware Of Seriousness Of War

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(INS)—Acting Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson declared Thursday that the fall of the Tokyo government in Japan is proof that the Japanese people are now becoming aware of the serious character of the defeats their forces are suffering.

He told a news conference that no one in the American government will be deceived by any maneuvers by which the Japanese try to set up a new government purporting to be more friendly to the United States.

MRS. W. O. GERE'S NEPHEW KILLED

Mrs. William O. Gere, of Glenmore boulevard, has received word that her nephew, Pfc. Emerson M. Show, had been killed in action in France June 9. Pfc. Show was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight M. Show, of Massillon, O. His mother, the former Miss Frances Rohlf, was a former resident of Loraine avenue, this city.

Pfc. Show had been in service nearly two years. He was attached to the infantry and was stationed at Fort Eustis, Va., before being sent overseas early in 1943. He was sent directly to Africa. Pfc. Show participated in the North African and Sicilian campaigns. In addition to his parents, he is survived by two sisters, Misses Geraldine and Caroline Show.

Boy Scout Board Meets At Camp

Sixteen Members Of Executive Board Inspect Program Of Lawrence County Camp

Sixteen members of the Boy Scout executive board met at the Lawrence county Boy Scout camp on Thursday evening for a chicken dinner with the campers and an executive meeting conducted by Dr. G. S. Bennett afterwards. Scout Executive Thomas Allen said today.

Following the dinner, the visitors were taken on a tour of inspection by Thomas L. Paden, chairman of the camping activities committee. The group later assembled in the large barn of the camp to hear the reports of Camp Director Joseph Hartman concerning the conduct of the camp and of Thomas Paden concerning camp improvements and their cost.

Much time was spent discussing the report of Frank Hill, chairman of the council finance committee concerning the financial program for 1945. The group decided that Mr. Hill's committee and the chairman of the other five operating committees should meet before very long to prepare the council budget for the coming year.

Explaining the housing need to the board, Roger Jewett, executive secretary of the Greater New Castle association, asked for the cooperation of the Boy Scouts in distributing the papers for the Lawrence county wartime employment and housing survey in all parts of the county except Ellwood.

Indications are that the fourth and fifth periods of camp will be completely filled as were the preceding three weeks. So far 82 boys are signed up for the fourth week. Members of the board went on record as expressing their appreciation to the camp staff for the excellent way in which the camp is being conducted.

AUTOS COLLIDE

Autos driven, police report, by Bill Andrews, Garfield avenue and Mrs. Ruth Watson, R. D. 1, collided at East Washington and Ray streets at 3:28 p.m. yesterday. Mrs. Watson went to the Jameson Memorial hospital for an examination. Damage to the cars was slight.

Germans Holding 232 Italians In Noted Monastery

Seventy Children Are Included In Group Cowed By Machine Guns

By GRAHAM HOVEY (U.S.S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE EIGHTH ARMY IN ITALY, July 21.—(INS)—Fifteen Germans with sub-machine guns continued today to hold 232 Italian civilians, including 70 children, as hostages in the famous San Ubaldo monastery while using its holy precincts for observation and mortar positions.

An Italian who escaped from the monastery brought the latest information on the situation, which is identical to that which prevailed at Monte Cassino prior to the February bombing.

Meanwhile, the ancient town of Gubbio, at the foot of Monte Ingo, on which the monastery is situated, continued as a no-man's-land in which patrols sparred. Fifty Germans reconnoitered the town last night.

British troops assured the father superior of the monastery that the building will not be shelled. Relatives of the trapped Italians are continuing to take food there at 7 a. m. daily.

The bishop of Gubbio said the Germans shot 40 civilians on June 20.

Invasion Stowaway Back In England

For Stowing Away On Invasion Glider, Soldier Fined, Put In Guard House

PITTSBURGH, July 21.—(INS)—Pfc. Charles E. Schmelz, who won himself a measure of fame by becoming the invasion's first stowaway, is back in England driving a jeep, his mother, Mrs. Anne Schmelz today disclosed.

The youthful soldier, in a letter date June 22, reported his escape was not kindly regarded by his superior officers.

"I was given a summary court martial, a $20 fine, 30-day restriction and eight days in the guard house," he wrote home.

"That was some deal for doing more in three days in France than I have done in two years in the states and England."

Schmelz hid in the tail of a glider until it was underway for 20 minutes, then rappelled on the door and was let out by airborne troops. The tail of the plane was torn off in landing and the youth's move probably save his life.

An Important Message to Every Citizen of Lawrence County.

Let's Do Our Part. Let's
Build Stable Communities in Lawrence County!

LAWRENCE COUNTY FACES AN IMMEDIATELY SERIOUS PROBLEM

And it's a big problem, too! We must provide an additional 2,000 employees within 60 days or 3,600 within four months, or witness an influx of new employees and temporary housing, possibly in excess of our needs. We must help our industries meet this problem.

HOW WE CAN HELP SOLVE THE PROBLEM

To do our part in helping to win the war . . . to keep all of our industries operating, which means to prevent dislocation of employment locally . . . to keep the affairs of Lawrence County on an even keel so as not to create a temporary surplus of labor and housing—here are the things we can do to help solve the problem.

1. Provide more people for more hours of work—which means particularly those UNEMPLOYED WOMEN who will volunteer to take a war job.
2. Encourage those now employed in non-essential industry outside of Lawrence County to return to their home town—their place of residence—and take a job here.
3. Provide all available rooms, apartments, and houses possible for rent.

IT DEPENDS UPON YOU

Whether or Not Lawrence County Must Call for Outside Help

IT DEPENDS UPON WHETHER YOU (unemployed women particularly) are patriotic and willing to take a war job.

IT DEPENDS UPON YOU, who have always wanted a job at home and are now working outside of the county. Are you willing to return to a job in Lawrence County?

IT DEPENDS UPON YOU, Mr. Property-Owner. Will you rent that extra room, that empty apartment or house—yes, even to families with children?

THE TIME IS SHORT! Lawrence County must give the answer to these problems to our war industries, to the War Manpower Commission, and to the National Housing Agency by July 27th.

DO THIS NOW!

- Fill out the questionnaire which will appear in the New Castle News on July 25th and 26th and send it in to the Greater New Castle Association, Castleton Hotel Building, New Castle, Pa., promptly.
- Register at the U. S. Employment Service, E. Washington St. (over the Citizens National Bank) for employment.
- Register your room, apartment or house for rent with your real estate agent or the Greater New Castle Association.

GOP Head Raps Naval Base Use

Brownell Questions President's Use Of Base For Acceptance

NEW YORK, July 21.—(INS)—Herbert Brownell, Jr., Republican national chairman, today took President Roosevelt to task for making his acceptance speech from a naval base.

"In his long-planned effort to perpetuate himself for sixteen years in the White House, Mr. Roosevelt has known for months that he had a date to make a political speech last night to the Democratic convention," said Brownell in a news conference.

"Yet he chose that particular night to visit a naval base on the Pacific coast. It was, in fact, his first visit to any army or navy base outside Washington in fifteen months."

"The American people will deeply resent his effort to exploit the armed forces of the United States by using a naval base as a platform for a partisan speech to a political convention."

Asked if his statement reflected the views of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Republican presidential nominee, Brownell said: "I'm speaking for myself."

To a further query if the governor had been consulted about the statement, the national chairman replied: "No."

A total of 4275 Ohio women today are serving with the Waves.

Weather Curtails Action In France

All Landing Operations Seriously Curtailed By Bad Weather Conditions

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, July 21.—(INS)—Battered and weary German troops in western France caught a brief respite from their pummeling at the hands of Allied fighting men today when a dreaching rain reduced all action to secondary skirmishes.

Official spokesmen at headquarters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said that a downpour has soaked most of the Normandy region for the last 26 hours, adding "no noteworthy action has been fought throughout the battle area today."

So bad is the weather—which has been the best ally of the Germans throughout the campaign—that for the first time since D-day it has curtailed seriously all landing operations, the spokesmen said.

An earlier communique announced that the British Second Army, hurling waves of infantry against Nazi tank-paced forces, pressed their advance beyond Caen to seize additional high ground.

American Bombers Attack Vienna Area

ROME, June 21.—(INS)—American heavy bombers in a forested two-pronged attack, stabbed to within 125 miles south of Berlin to blast military targets at Bruck in the Sudetenland today and lashed out at rail yards near historic Venice.

Medium forces of the four-motorized raiders carried out the Bruck assault, losing their bombs through a dense smoke screen by means of instruments. Damage was difficult to estimate because of the smoke.

Intense anti-aircraft fire and many Nazi interceptors, some of which were shot down, attempted to beat off the attacking formations.

The Venice raid was carried out by B-24 Liberator bombers.

Ohio Delegation Favors Wallace

CHICAGO, July 21.—(INS)—The Ohio delegation to the Democratic national convention, at an informal caucus held just prior to the opening of the fifth session, today decided to vote as follows on the first ballot for the vice presidential nomination: Rayburn 2, Wallace 23, Truman 9, McNutt 3, Kerr 1, Barkley 2, Stettinius 1. The delegation has 32 votes but eleven were missing from the caucus.

Animal Disease Labs Are Needed

CHICAGO, July 21.—(INS)—Establishment of state laboratories for research in animal disease would save at least part of $418,000,000 for the livestock and poultry industries each year, J. Paul Folsom of Lederle Laboratories, New York, believes.

Folsom urged creation of laboratories to work with the veterinarians as public health services work with physicians. He addressed the National Wholesale Druggists' Association.

Losses traceable to diseases of livestock and poultry he said amount to more than $418,000,000 a year.

"This staggering loss," he observed, "never will be reduced unless all agencies work in harmony for the best interests of the livestock and poultry industries."

Congresswoman To Visit England

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(INS)—Congresswoman Frances P. Bolton (R-Ohio) announced today that she will make a trip to England in the near future to inspect military installations, hospitals, and rehabilitation camps.

Mrs. Bolton emphasized that "I go on my own initiative both as a

Cardinals Have 13 Game Lead

Refeet Giants Twice As
Pirates And Phillies Split
Double Bill

By JOHN CASHMAN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, July 21.—The masterly St. Louis Cardinals, who now are leading the National League 13 games over their nearest rival, cannot be expected to do much more in the coming two weeks than tighten up on failing clubs.

The Cards have only one game left of a three-contest series with the New York Giants before they leave for Boston, which occupies the cellar. After this apparently soft touch, the Cards go to Philadelphia for another feast and wind up their season with a five game series against the fabled Brooklyn Dodgers.

That the Cards are prepared to make a banquet tour of the eastern circuit was seen yesterday when they trounced the supposedly revitalized New York Giants in both ends of a twin bill, 10 to 2 and 6 to 2, in 11 innings.

Pirates-Phillies Split
If Boston promise to be easy picking for the all-powerful Cardinals, the Braves are a harder nut to crack. The Braves pounded out two 5 to 4 decisions over the Chicago Cubs.

The Philadelphia Phillies and Pittsburgh Pirates split a swing-suit twin bill, the Pirates winning the morning game, 4 to 1, but losing the afternoon, 3 to 2 in 11 innings. Bill Lee was charged with the loss when he was reached for two runs in both the third and fourth innings. Dick Barrett pitched ten nightcap innings, but needed the aid of Charles Schatz who took the mound for the last frame.

The Brooklyn Dodgers started another string of losses when they dropped a 6 to 0 decision to the Cincinnati Reds.

Browns Trip Yanks
In the American League, the St. Louis Browns improved their hold on first place by defeating the New York Yankees 7 to 3 in a night game in St. Louis.

The Washington Senators were edged out of a three-way tie with Cleveland and Detroit for fourth place when they dropped a 7 to 6 decision to the Tigers.

The Boston Red Sox kept their third-place pace with an 11 to 7 win over the Chicago White Sox.

JOHNSON BRONZE SMOTHERS I.A.M.

Johnson Bronze with Monk Rainey hurling set the I. A. Machinists down last evening at Marshall field in a City League game 12 to 0. Rainey allowed just four hits, all of the scratch variety.

The Bronze took to the offerings of Joe Frigione, Ed Lamm and Hardesty like ducks to water and batted out 11 hits, led by Chili with three solid smashes and Kozela, Diffley and Flintall with two hits apiece.

The Bronze had two big frames, the third and fourth, showing over nine of their runs. Rainey was stingy with hits when the I. A. M. had men on bases.

Legion Wins Here Handily

Sharpville Team Is Defeated In Return Engagement Played At Washington Field

New Castle's American Legion Junior team came to life in their contest at George Washington field last evening, after playing erratic ball in the opening game at Farrell Wednesday night. They won in easy fashion by the score of 10-1, with a big crowd on hand to witness the game.

It became apparent in the first inning that the locals were out for blood and were determined to win, when they punched across their first run. It was not earned, errors contributing, but the boys seemed to be hitting the ball a little more sharply.

A few innings later, Gentile, the New Castle's classy third-sacker, socked one over Murray's head in center field, for a home run, the best hit of the contest, and from then on it was New Castle's game.

Vargo pitched heady baseball throughout, and the team played well behind him. Three of Sharpville's runs came in the last inning. Gentile saved the day in the fourth inning, when with the bases full and two out, he dove behind third base and snared a hard drive which was ticketed for extra bases, and stepped on the sack ahead of the runner.

The third game of the series will be played at George Washington field this evening, this having been decided by the flip of a coin, which went in New Castle's favor.

Manager Moffatt and Coach Jewell were impressed with the return to form of the local boys, and feel confident that they will annex tonight's contest, which starts at 6 o'clock, to go further in the contest. The winner of tonight's game plays the winner of the Ford City-New Kensington series, starting July 26. Home and home games will be played, and if a third contest is necessary, it will be played at the Slippery Rock State Teachers college athletic field.

Carnegie Tech Cards Six Games

PITTSBURGH, July 21.—(INS)—Carnegie Tech's Athletic director, Clarence "Buddy" Overend, today revealed the tartans will play an "abbreviated" football season of six games, starting well into October and finishing late in the fall.

Although dates have not yet been set, Overend said Tech is "planning to meet Pitt, West Virginia, Case, Lehigh, Michigan State and Kentucky."

Even with coaches Eddie Baker and Joe Skhdeny in the Navy, Overend said finding a grid mentor "will be the least of our worries. We have several men available."

Bossuet Gains Over Stablemate, Apache

CAMDEN, N. J., July 21.—Bossuet, driving victor in the Fleeting Handicap last Saturday at New York, gained favor over his stablemate Apache as the two Belair Stud stars prepared for the third of the $10,000 added Valley Forge Handicap at Garden State Park on Saturday. The Fleeting victor carried 129 pounds in that race and will get in the six furlong test with one less. His 128 pound package is second heaviest assigned for the event, with Apache again getting top-weight of 134.

Why Soldiers Get Priority Phone Rating

Soldiers Anxiously Await
Phone Call To Family Or Sweetheart When Called Out

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21—(INS)—A recent survey by the National Catholic Community Service which is a member agency of the USO operates more than 500 servicemen's clubs throughout the nation, reveals that Johnny Doughboy is really telephone conscious in this war.

Father's Day saw countless thousands of long distance calls made by those serving Uncle Sam . . . but it also saw thousands of disappointed boys and girls in uniform waiting in vain for the line that never got through.

Try to Hurry Calls
And if you don't believe an American lad, toughened by G. I. training, can reach the verge of tears when he's bound for a destination unknown and has waited 12 hours for a call that never cleared, just listen to the USO-NCCS volunteers. They've seen them and have turned away with affected unconcern.

Alert to the fact that a telephone chat with his loved ones may spell the difference between peace of mind and despair to a serviceman the NCCS has taken every step possible to facilitate these calls. The majority of clubs in military areas have public booths installed with volunteer switchboard operators in attendance.

At the NCCS club in Columbus, Ga., frequented by many returned servicemen bearing decorations from the war in the Pacific, the G. I.'s have proved that they're far more patient with a telephone than they are with the Japs.

"We've seen times when the load was so heavy that the boys would come in at nine in the morning and remain in the club until 10 or 11 that night, waiting for their calls to get through," the director declared.

In the Baltimore, Md., club, where a guest register is provided for servicemen's remarks, the book is filled with compliments for the club's long distance service.

A Great Morale Builder
That a telephone call to loved ones is one of the best morale builders was exemplified recently at the Trenton, N. J., club, when a private called his girl friend in California. The call cost $10 plus $4.75 tax. He spoke for five minutes and when he left the booth, beaming, he said: "Well, there goes half my month's pay—but it sure was worth it. And next month I'll do it all over again!"

Missionary Alliance Encampment Starts Today At Mahaffey

MAHAFFEY, July 21.—At the Christian and Missionary Alliance encampment at Susquehanna Park camp ground, which opens this evening until July 30, an attendance of 10,000 is expected over the week-end.

Rev. E. C. Anderson, district superintendent, is in charge of the encampment.

Two hundred fifty tents will be used to augment the four large dormitories and 110 permanent cottages of the grounds. In the large dining hall up to 1,000 will be fed at meal time. Meetings will be held in the two large tabernacles.

Daily services include morning prayer meetings, young people's services, missionary messages, children's meetings and afternoon Bible messages.

THIRTY CASES LISTED
There are 30 cases listed on the criminal court docket for September, according to the file in the prothonotary's office. Some of these cases have already been settled by pleas. Of the number 13 are desertion and non-support or neglect cases.

PRISONER LEAVES
Sheriff M. Ingham was in Blaw Knox yesterday, delivering Joseph Weaver, who pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary last week, to the workhouse there. Weaver received a sentence of from 8 to 16 months.

AWAIT FISHERMEN
The entire courthouse is anxiously awaiting the return of Controller Andy Dodds, Custodian Bill McKee and Commissioner Karl Rohrer, who are alleged to be making some wonderful catches in Canadian waters, and it will be a big disappointment to all if a real fish fry does not develop out of their trip.

School Parking Lots Repaired For Fall

Students' bicycles and teachers' cars will find new surfaces on many school parking lots throughout the city when classes start again this fall. Superintendent of Schools Frank L. Burton said today.

At George Washington junior high school the parking lot has been resurfaced, and at Highland school part of the playground which was not cemented has been refinished. A muddy section of ground between McGill school and the extension of Norwood avenue that runs beside it is being surfaced, as are the parking lots at both Ben Franklin junior high and senior high schools.

Part of the playground behind the Rose avenue school and much of the Croton playground are also on the list. All woodwork around the senior high school has been painted, Mr. Burton added. Inside and outside repair work and painting jobs are being done on other school buildings also.

Sgt. J. Hollibaugh Reported Missing

Mrs. John Schneider of East Hazel street, has received word that her nephew, Sgt. James Hollibaugh, aged 19 years, has been reported missing over Hungary since June 27.

Sgt. Hollibaugh is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hollibaugh, former residents of Cumberland avenue, this city, but now residing in Vallejo, Calif.

Sgt. Hollibaugh, a bombardier on a Flying Fortress, has been in service over a year. He has been overseas since February.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by three sisters, Misses Mary Louise, Gayle Ann and Donna Jean Hollibaugh.

TREE GROWS IN OREGON
CANYON CITY, Ore.—(INS)—A little tree in Canyon City bears sour apples the size of walnuts that don't drop off in the fall. Although it is more than 30 years old, the tree only measures 12 inches in diameter. Each year, it puts forth its hard apples which remain on the branches until spring. Then the apples turn brown and sweet with the birds throughout the countryside raging a terrific battle for them.
